1. Failure to file constitutes an Infraction of the Second Degree (Orange Handbook §12.4) and voids any Article Five defense you might otherwise have raised.
2. Truces are temporary in the way that filing cabinets are temporary: nominally, and until someone needs the space.
3. Approval of this request authorizes the operation described in Part III. It does not authorize the operation you actually conduct, should the two diverge.
4. A Truce in Stage Four Standing may be moved to Stage Five Review at any time, by either party, for any reason, including this filing.
5. This form creates no obligation on the Union's part toward the counterparty beyond the term specified in Part IV. The counterparty has been informed of this in terms it found acceptable, unclear, or both.
6. The Union appreciates your discretion in matters not requiring escalation, and your escalation in matters not requiring discretion.
